ministries sign-up results

The results of those who have volunteered to assist with our liturgical duties will be used starting next week with the bulletin assignments. Thanks to all those who risked getting involved in a more active level.

bulletin changes

In past weeks it has become increasingly difficult to devote time early in the week to get the bulletin accomplished and then to pass it on to be translated. After checking with other larger Hispanic parishes in the area (Our Lady of Sorrows, Our Lady of the Gulf, Our Lady of Guadalupe, Cuero) it became apparent that we--a completely volunteer based parish with no hired secretary--were going the extra mile in having an entire page translated. Important items will continue to be presented in English and Spanish translation. But for the most part, the bulletin will be in English. Someone lamented this fact recently...and when questioned what newspaper they check/read each day when they get a chance...they were quick to respond with "The Victoria Advocate." If one can make it through the local newspaper, one can make it through the bulletin. As well, the format of the bulletin can now be reduced, and by utilizing covers with a liturgical reflection, it can serve both the purpose of posting the following week's assignments and providing reflection/thought-provoking materials on the outside cover.
