easter: the season of sacraments

This weekend we are celebrating the Sacrament of Confirmation for 10 of our young people. Last weekend we celebrated the Sacraments of First Reconciliation and Eucharist for 35 of our youth. Hopefully these great moments of initiation will be lived out in the grace these precious gifts offer us. May our youth continue to seek the will of God above all in their life.

happy mother's day

A special, blessed day for all of the mothers of our parish family! The Knights of Columbus, as part of their dedication to the pro-life cause, are providing the flowers this weekend as a sign of gratitude for the ladies saying yes to preserving and nurturing life as God's gift.

it's good to see them again...like new!!!

It is good to have our statues back with us and looking so good! Our working together continues to bring results. Tamales, Pizza, Baked Goods, and BBQ Chicken...all added up to enhancing our church sanctuary through our cooperation, dedication and generosity!

last week's mistake...this week's solution

Due to the parish secretary's poor skills, an omission/error appeared in the Festival Report of raffle winners. Manuel Estrada won a $100 Target Gift Certificate and Ted Cabral won a $100 Wal-Mart Gift Certificate. It is always easier to be a critic rather than to assist with a solution. As to the issue raised that individuals were not notified on that Sunday concerning raffle prize winnings, well, simply put...the parish secretary wanted a little down time and rest after a very long weekend. If calls would have been made, people would have been stopping in at all times throughout the evening. It does not seem to have caused any serious problems by waiting until Monday. If this poses a great threat to future success...then it's time to become part of the solution and risk actually getting involved.
