

A reflection from the Pastor

Peace. "What do you want me to do for you?" Jesus asks Bartimaeus in today's gospel. Bartimaeus' answer was simple, "I want to see." Not only was his physical sight restored, but his spiritual sight was restored: "and he followed Jesus on the way."

Jesus asks us the same question, because at times we don't ask or we may even wallow in our own pride and pity. We need to be able to speak plainly and confidently to him, so that he can restore us to seeing as he sees and then follow him.

I am making the final preparations for the new Reconciliation Room. The room will be handicap accessible and allow for face to face confession in a more pleasing and inviting atmosphere – better lighting, more space. Of course, the option for behind the screen and anonymity will be maintained also. We will begin using the new confessionals next weekend, November 4th.

Each week I am going to try to answer a new question about what the Church teaches. This week, what the Church teaches about the Communion of Saints.

Have a blessed week, Fr. Ty

What is the Communion of Saints?

The Catechism (teaching) of the Catholic Church says:

960 The Church is a "communion of saints": this expression refers first to the "holy things" (sancta), above all the Eucharist, by which "the unity of believers, who form one body in Christ, is both represented and brought about" (LG 3).

961 The term "communion of saints" refers also to the communion of "holy persons" (sancti) in Christ who "died for all," so that what each one does or suffers in and for Christ bears fruit for all.

962 "We believe in the communion of all the faithful of Christ, those who are pilgrims on earth, the dead who are being purified, and the blessed in heaven, all together forming one Church; and we believe that in this communion, the merciful love of God and his saints is always [attentive] to our prayers" (Paul VI, CPG § 30).

Remembering the Saints

The feast of All Saints is a holy day of obligation. Catholics are obligated to attend Mass on this day. Mass times will be:

Tuesday, October 31, 2006 7:00 p.m. Vigil

Wednesday, November 1, 2006 7:00 p.m.

Remembering All Souls

In a particular way, in the month of November we remember all the faithful departed. In order to remember our beloved dead, please take part in the following:

1. Sign the names of those who have died and whom you would like to pray for. This book will be located on the stand at the door of the baptistery – our gateway to life in Christ.
2. You may make use of the envelopes to include names of those you would like to include in the Mass of All Souls, at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday, November 2. These envelopes will be located at each church entrance. They may be returned in the parish collection basket.

Last Sunday's Collection:

General: $ 1,575.50
Second Collection (World Missions): $242.27
