

A reflection from the Pastor

Peace.

In today's gospel Jesus challenges us and Simon: "the one to whom little is forgiven, loves little." Jesus was making a statement about the woman, a sinner that had kissed and anointed his feet and wiped them with her hair. He was showing the disciples and us that the time for forgiveness is now – and when we forgive we open that person and ourselves to loving more. And that is what he wants us to grow in, because he is all Love. The sooner we start to get that right by forgiving, then the sooner we get to experience that love for all time.

Today we also remember all fathers. We give thanks to our one Father in heaven and to those men who serve the unity we know as the family here on earth. So many of them go out of their way to aid the family, just as the model of all fathers, St. Joseph did for Jesus and Mary. I am particularly grateful to God for my father, Ernest, and my grandfathers, Ernest and Nealy (both now deceased), and all of their fathers – because they have made me who I am.

Be advised, the parish office will be closed June 25 through June 29. Please try to take care of any business before these dates. There will also be no liturgies during this week. I will be taking a few days of vacation. Who knows, I might even put the finishing touches on the book I am writing. Thanks for your attention in this matter.

Lastly, I ask that you continue to encourage your family and friends to come to Mass. This is particularly true for the children. The only way for us to grow in holiness is to touch the holy, and the Mass is the central way of our faith. Invite your family members back or encourage them to go.

May you have a blessed week.

Fr. Ty

OUR FATHERS

Our fathers toil with hands and heart
To make our lives complete.
They quietly brave the winter cold,
Endure the summer heat.

Our fathers' lives are busy, but
There's always time for us.
They boldly face the ups and downs
And seldom ever fuss.

Our fathers are the greatest dads.
We know you know this, too.
But thank you for the chance to share
Our love for them with you.

Happy Father's Day

Hurricane Season
