A reflection from the Pastor

Peace.

Today we celebrate the solemnity of the Holy Trinity. It is our belief in God – Father, Son, and Holy Spirit that makes us a Trinitarian people. It is the relationship of the three that creates the mystery and yet we know they are One. The very relationship of Father, Son and Holy Spirit, is reflected in our earthly journey back to God. This is why our entire life is built on perfecting those relationships, so that we might grow in perfection with the ultimate giver of relationship, God himself.

So many people today look at the world and think, God really does have a bunch of dysfunctional children. They say, it's no wonder that children and parents don't get along. But in reality, God gives us the ability to choose how we respond in relationship. As we have been celebrating since Advent, God sent his Son for relationship – to show us how to love, and just in this last week, we celebrated His sending of the Holy Spirit, so that we might have everything explained and so that we might deepen that relationship.

Take some time this week to consider how your relationships with others are or are not an example of the unselfish love of God. If not, how might you grown in closer relationship with His persons and come to share His love.

May you have a blessed week. Fr. Ty

Exerpt from Married Love and the Gift of Life

What does the Church teach about married love? It is more than a civil contract; it is a lifelong covenant of love between a man and a woman. It is an intimate partnership in which husbands and wives learn to give and receive love unselfishly, and then teach their children to do so as well. Christian marriage in particular is a "great mystery," a sign of the love between Christ and his Church (Ephesians 5:32).

Are couples expected to leave their family size entirely to chance? Certainly not. The Church teaches that a couple may generously decide to have a large family, or may for serious reasons choose not to have more children for the time being or even for an indefinite period (Humanae Vitae, no. 10).

What does the Church teach about contraception? The Church teaches that all forms of contraceptive are sinful, intrinsically morally evil. Therefore, the Church advocates natural family planning. By using contraceptives, couples may think they are avoiding troubles or easing tensions, but they are in essence breaking down the very marital relationship, and thus wounding their relationship with God. The new gift of life that married love makes possible, the ability to create a new human life with another person, involves profound relationships that must be built on mutual love and respect.

The Mystery of the Holy Trinity - The Dogma

253 The Trinity is One. We do not confess three Gods, but one God in three persons, the "consubstantial Trinity". The divine persons do not share the one divinity among themselves but each of them is God whole and entire: "The Father is that which the Son is, the Son that which the Father is, the Father and the Son that which the Holy Spirit is, i.e. by nature one God." In the words of the Fourth Lateran Council (1215), "Each of the persons is that supreme reality, viz., the divine substance, essence or nature."

254 The divine persons are really distinct from one another. "God is one but not solitary." "Father", "Son", "Holy Spirit" are not simply names designating modalities of the divine being, for they are really distinct from one another: "He is not the Father who is the Son, nor is the Son he who is the Father, nor is the Holy Spirit he who is the Father or the Son." They are distinct from one another in their relations of origin: "It is the Father who generates, the Son who is begotten, and the Holy Spirit who proceeds." The divine Unity is Triune.

255 The divine persons are relative to one another. Because it does not divide the divine unity, the real distinction of the persons from one another resides solely in the relationships which relate them to one another: "In the relational names of the persons the Father is related to the Son, the Son to the Father, and the Holy Spirit to both. While they are called three persons in view of their relations, we believe in one nature or substance." Indeed "everything (in them) is one where there is no opposition of relationship." "Because of that unity the Father is wholly in the Son and wholly in the Holy Spirit; the Son is wholly in the Father and wholly in the Holy Spirit; the Holy Spirit is wholly in the Father and wholly in the Son."
