

A reflection from the Pastor

My beloved brothers and sisters in the Lord.

Peace.

I do hope that this week of celebrating our National Independence was relaxing and joyful. As with summer, there must be time for recreation and fun. We pray in particular for our farmers, that they will have favorable weather to harvest and abundant harvest.

This activity is a metaphor for the reality our relationship with the Lord. One day we will truly celebrate our independence, when we are freed from the corruption of mind and body and enter into his eternal reward. So yes, there must be time to reflect and exercise virtue in the midst of so much chaos and suffering. The harvest that God is after is that of our souls – he wants to win over laborers who will work to building up his kingdom here on earth, so that when it comes to heaven, we might be ready to enter.

One of my priest friends, who recently became a first time pastor was sharing his genuine concern about what really helps the parish to build the kingdom. There is a natural tendency to say, if its not putting me closer to that goal, then get rid of it. I already warned him to not be too quick in getting rid of everything.

But we must be sincere stewards of what God has given us – we must ask in our own day, have I worked in building up the kingdom – or have I weakened it a little?

As we near the end of my first year as your pastor, I am conscious of the work we must do to build the kingdom here and now. As we progress into the fall, be aware of the initiatives that I am going to put into place – and see if the Lord is calling you to labor for him and the kingdom.

May you have a blessed week.

Fr. Ty

Note on Church Cleaning

First, let me say thank you to all of you who have labored over these years in this area. It is a difficult job and you have done it well. But, with the decrease in active family members, age, illness, scheduling conflicts/cleaning time issues, etc.; I have decided to take over these duties with the employment of an individual to clean weekly. There will be bi-annual opportunities for the parish family to clean at Christmas and Easter. Thank you.
