

A reflection from the Pastor

“Whoever believes has eternal life,” Jesus in today’s gospel. We continue reading from St. John’s bread of life discourse, which is so central to our faith. Jesus’ Body and Blood in the Eucharist offer us the means to live for ever with our Father in heaven; and Jesus tells us that what we need is faith. It is so easy to say “that’s impossible” and the world wants us to say that, the devil wants us to say that. But Jesus says that all we need is ‘faith’ and as he says, it begins as a tiny seed like a mustard seed, which has to be cared for and grown, but when it does, then we are able to weather the trials of life and allow ourselves to be strong for others to seek refuge. Let us pray this week for the gift of faith.

Please note that the Solemnity of the Assumption, because it falls on a Saturday this year is not an obligatory holyday. We will have Mass on Saturday morning at 8:00 a.m. to celebrate this solemnity of Mary being taken into heaven body and soul.

May you have a blessed week. Fr. Ty

What's your Catholic IQ -Faith Quiz

Answer from last week:

Can a deacon get married? b. No

First, there are two types of deacons, transitional-those going on to be ordained priests and permanent deacons. In the Latin Church, following the see of Peter, once ordained a deacon, he may not be married. If the permanent deacon is married prior to his ordination, he remains married until death and may not remarry once his spouse dies.

This week's question:

How old does a man have to be to be ordained a permanent deacon?

a. 18 b. 65 c. 35 d. 55

Answer coming next week
