

A reflection from the Pastor

Jesus' transfiguration before Peter, James, and John must have been a moving event for the three. Jesus was changed into the brilliance of the Father's glory, so white they could barely see him, and revealed who he truly was to the three. This is precisely the moment we await when our earthly journey has been completed. If we have run the good race, we are able to see the splendor of God, as Peter, James, and John, but not only for a single instant, but for all eternity. It is that power and glory that we tap into this Lent. Try this week to take advantage of those corporal and spiritual works of mercy that will push you and your soul to that reward. In the midst of life's challenges, you might feel that it is not worth it, but that is a remnant of our human condition. Continue to set your mind and sights on the higher things, and always be renewed by the little crosses we must bear in this life.

May you and your families have a blessed Lent. +

Judas later regretted betraying Jesus and tried to give the money back, but the chief priests wouldn't take it. See Matthew 27:3-8.
