Saints of the Week

November 3rd,
St. Martin De Porres,
Religious

Today's humble saint, son of a white Spanish grandee father and a black Panamanian mother, was born in Lima, Peru, in 1579. As a boy he learned the art of healing. Entering the Dominicans, he served as infirmarian and in 1603 took religious vows. Martin healed the illnesses of the poor and also of animals, led a life of profound prayer, penance, and extraordinary spiritual gifts and died in 1639. A patron saint of American blacks, he was canonized by Pope John XXIII in 1962.

November 4th,
St. Charles Borromeo,
Bishop

Charles Borromeo (1538-1584), of the wealthy Borromeo family, was born near Lago Maggiore in north Italy. A lawyer, he was summoned to Rome by his uncle, Pius IV, and at age 22 was named a Cardinal in charge of Church affairs. Charles worked to complete the Council of Trent, and then in 1563 was ordained and named Archbishop of Milan. There he was the ideal Shepherd-visiting his people, establishing the first seminaries, correcting abuses, dedicating self in total service. His influence was great. He died at age 46, on November 3, and is buried in the Cathedral of Milan. Charles Borromeo was canonized a saint in 1610.

In you Lord I have found my peace.

Pro-Life Corner:

November 6- We are in a war to save the unborn babies. Often it seems we are losing one battle after another; should we surrender? Absolutely not! We are commanded to be the salt of the earth, and to put our light on the lamp stand, until God returns. We have to hold the ground because every life is important to God and to our nation's future.
