January 2nd,
Sts. Basil the Great and
Gregory Nazianzen,
Bishops and Doctors

The virtue of friendship is commemorated today. Basil and Gregory were ideal friends. Born around 330 in Asia Minor, they studied together in Athens and for many years were monks in the same monastery. Basil was an organizer; Gregory more contemplative and poetic. Both became bishops. Basil was an intrepid fighter against Arianism. Gregory resigned the tumultuous See of Constantinople and ended his days devoutly at Nazianzen.

January 4th,
St. Elizabeth Ann Seton

Catholics of the United States of America are honored by today's saint. Born in New York City in 1774, she was an Episcopalian and a socialite who attended President Washington's Inauguration. After her husband's death -by whom she had five children- Elizabeth Seton became a Catholic. In 1809, she started a religious teaching community, the first American Sisters of Charity, and began the Catholic school system. This heroic woman died in 1821 and was canonized a saint on September 14, 1975.

Lord, every nation on earth will adore you.
