July 11th,
St. Benedict,
Abbot

Today's saint has been truly a blessing- for his life and for his innumerable Benedictine sons and daughters. He founded a monastic tradition based on his "Monastic Rule." The Benedictine tradition has served both Church and civilization with distinction. Born in central Italy in 480, he studied at Rome before starting a hermit's life at Subiaco. Benedict founded the celebrated monastery at Cassino, and because of his Rule became the Patriarch of monasticism in Europe. He died on March 21, around 547.

July 13th,
St. Henry,

Today's remarkable saint (973-1024) was Duke of Bavaria and Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire. He was forced to fight one campaign after another against rebellious vassals, but occupied himself in reforming the Church, selecting able bishops, leading a personal quasi-monastic life. He persuaded the Pope to authorize the Creed on Sundays and major feasts. Henry built the Cathedral of Bamberg in Germany-where his saintly wife Conegunda lies buried. He was canonized a saint in 1146.

Pro-Life Corner:

July 15 - For us, murder is once and for all forbidden. It makes no difference whether one takes away the life once born, or destroys it as it comes to birth; the fruit is always present in the seed.

Lord, let us see your kindness and grant us your salvation.
