April 7th,
St. John Baptist De La
Salle,
Priest

In the year 1679 this newly-ordained priest began a new educational work. At Rheims in France, his city of birth, John opened a school to educate poor children. The education was not classical, but rather practical and directed towards living as a Christian worker. He opened other schools, and in 1684 founded in religious community, the Brothers of the Christian Schools. His last years were filled with great trials. These he bore in Christ-like silence. He died on today's date, Good Friday in 1619. He was canonized a saint in 1900.

Lenten Reflections:

"In a profound way we are being called to care for one another in a gospel-like way: to die to our own needs and to love someone else more deeply -- our spouse, our parents, our children. We are being called to take care of others before we take care of ourselves. It's counter cultural when everything in our lives and world says "it's all about me. I'm an army of one. Make sure I get what I need first." Yes, you have to put on your own oxygen mask before you help others. But in our closest relationships, we are invited to cherish each other."

Pro-Life Corner:

April 13th - "Let me tell you why I believe abortion is the crucial issue of our age. First, because abortion, too, is about living within the truth. The right to life is the foundation of every other human right. If that right is not inviolate, then no right can be guaranteed. Or to put it more bluntly: Homicide is homicide, no matter how small the victim." Most Reverend Charles Chaput
